MEDICINE.

7590. In Latin, on parchment: written in the 14th cent. in England: $7 \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ in., i+124 leaves: binding, stamped brown leather on boards with clasp, English 15th-cent. work.

Latin medical treatises:

i (fol. 3: with coloured capitals). Anonymous treatise on curable diseases, consisting of a prologue (beg. 'Rogasti karissime quatinus ea que maxime') and five 'particulae': a (fol. 3v) 'De uiciis que in cute exterius sunt', b (fol. 19) 'De morbis que paciuntur membra pertinencia ad animalem et spiritualem uirtutem', c (fol. 48) 'De uiciis membrorum nutritiuorum', d (fol. 72) 'De uiciis membrorum que ad generacionem faciendam creata sunt', e (fol. 84) 'De febribus'. Text beg. 'Generaliter causa morbi est duplex'.

ii (fol. 102: with coloured capitals). A short treatise on urines: beg. 'De signis urine vniuersalibus. Si sanguis dominetur in corpore'.

iii (fol. 105). An account of various drugs and their uses, alphabetically arranged, verbally identical for the most part with the Antidotarium of Nicolaus Salernitanus, but without the prescriptions for compounding them: beg. 'Aurea ab auro dicta est'.

iv (fol. 112). A collection of miscellaneous medical recipes, charms (fol. 118) and omens (fol. 119); beg. 'Color oculorum sepe euenit'. The frequent use of English names of herbs and the occurrence of an English sentence on fol. 119 show the writer to have been an Englishman. A few recipes have been added by later hands on foll. 121v, 122: cf. fol. 1.

'Constat hic liber modo J. Bettys. Precium 12d.', 15th cent. (fol. 123); 'Gregory Sauell owse thys booke', 16th cent. (fol. 120); the 16th-cent. signatures 'John Coffin' and 'Wyllm Wyllson' occur at foll. 11 and 66; inside the front cover is the heraldic book-plate of Richard Towneley of Towneley in Lancashire, 1702; '282', perhaps in the Towneley library.

June 1941. Among W. O. 's book bills I find one from W. M. Voynich, London, 31 May, 1912 "a 8357 Medical manuscript, 13th cent. English. £12".

"On inspection" is crossed out and the bill is receipted 26.vii.12"

We certainly have no 13th cent. med. MS. in English! Can it be this, # 7590, 14th cent. in Latin, written in England?

De febribus compositis

Compositae febres dicuntur quae fiunt ex humoribus confusis. Fiunt autem compositae aliquando ex duplici tertiana vel ex duplici quartana vel ex humoribus iii. De illis autem quae ex tribus vel iiii fiunt humoribus cum propter signorum confusionem cum ex raritate vel numquam contingunt auctores non scripserunt. De illa autem quae fit ex duabus tertianis et quartana continua et nec fuit dicendum. Harum quaedam aliae fiunt ex duabus in tertiana interpolata et continua. Quaedam ex duabus tertianis interpolatis et ex. Ex duabus tertianis pura et continua mixtae dicuntur quaedam et distincte. Quarum cognitiones per signa [...] duplicem colligantur.
